Essay writing Competition on

“Understanding Constitutional Principles”

Organized by the Political Science Department, GDCW Kathua

The Political Science Department of Government Degree College for Women (GDCW), Kathua, successfully organized an essay writing competition on the topic “Understanding Constitutional Principles.” The event aimed to enhance students’ knowledge of India’s constitutional framework, fundamental rights, and governance principles while encouraging critical thinking and academic writing skills.

Students presented well-researched essays covering various aspects of constitutional principles, including fundamental rights and duties, separation of powers, rule of law, secularism, and judicial review. Many essays highlighted the relevance of these principles in contemporary governance and their role in protecting democracy and individual freedoms.

The essay writing competition was a great success, providing a platform for students to engage in meaningful discussions on India’s constitutional principles. The Political Science Department plans to organize more such events in the future to promote legal and political awareness among students
